MOCRATS HONOR JACKSON'S MEMORY.

Business Men Celebrate His Day by a Banquet at the Hotel Savoy.

Secretary of the Navy Herbert Made a Strong Plea for Sound Money.

Curency Must Be Reformed, He Said, by the Election of Men Opposed to Free Silver.

A TELEGRAM FROM THE PRESIDENT

Received with Great Enthusiasm by the Banqueters-Ex-Governor Flower's Stirring Tribute to American Patriots.

Jackson Day, marking the anniversary of he battle of New Orleans, was celebrated by the Business Men's Democratic Association at the Hotel Savoy last night. Thout 150 members and guests sat down to a din-ner in the beautiful gold and white b 'nqueting hall there.

The room's decorations are of such a nature that any succial garniture would be out of place. Therefore there were none, except the oil painting of Andrew Jackson, draped with the Stars and Stripes, back of the guests' table, and banks of cut flowers in the centre of the other tables. On Jackson Day for the past twelve years the association has annually gathered to do honor to the occasion, but never has a more enthusiastic assemblage responded to the call than did last night. At the guests' table with President Theodore W. Myers sat Secretary of the Navy Hilary A. Herbert, ex-Governor Roswell P. Flower, ex-Governor Thomas M. Waller, Amos J. Cummings, Isidor Rayner, Comptroller Fitch, ex-Con-gressman Joseph C. Hendrix, Collector gressman Joseph C. Hendrix, Collector James T. Elidreth, Postmaster Charles W. Dayton, J. Edward Stamons, J. W. Hinckley, Morgan J. O'Brien, Conrad N. Jordan, C. C. Baldvin and Judge P. Henry Dugro. Scatteret about the other four tables were E. R. Cochran, Judson C. Wells, H. D. McCorl, Dr. A. T. Swan, Frank A. Ehret, Edvard C. Schaefer, Donaid Nicoll, Rollin J. Morgan, John B. Hassiocher, George Ehret, Charles A. King, W. L. Mitchell, Surrogate John H. V. Arnoid, Asa A. Aling, the Rev. D. O'Donovan, the Rev. J. J. Morris, J. W. Boyle, John C. Sheehan, Felix T. Murphy, James S. Coleman, Heiry Gillam, H. B. King, Thomas C. T. Crim, E. D. Farrell, Dr. A. Kessler, Major Thomas E. Sloan, Stephen Farrelly, Join D. Crimmins, Charles A. Henriques, Ames D. Leary, Francis A. Watson, J. A. Levy, W. B. Young, William L. Brown, John H. Flagler, ex-Mayor Thomas F. Glroy, ex-Corporation Counsel William H. Clark, Ernest Staples, Herman Tappen, Edward F. O'Dwyer, Harry C. Graef, Jarl Ettlinger, James H. Snyder, Charles B. Allen, Frank A. Williams, Harmon H. Hart, A. H. King, James Delano C. Calvin.

FRISIDENT CLEVELAND'S WORDS. James T. Hildreth, Postmaster Charles W.

PRISIDENT CLEVELAND'S WORDS. affair, bound with red, white and bine ribbon Andrew Jackson's portrait and the Inscription adorned the cover. On the ticle bage was a portrait of President Gieveland with this quotation from his recent Venezuelan message:
"There is no calamity which a great nation can invite which equals that which follows a supine submission to wrong and injutice." The nenu card was a tastefully conceived

Huitres pointe, bleu, Chateau Filhet.
Hors d'Oevres.
Olives, celeri, amandes salees, radis.
Creme de celeri, Pierre le Grand.
somme Chatelaine.
Amoutillade

Coscomme Cartelaine. Amontillado.
Canape Savoy.
Aignillettes de Maquereau Espagnol.
Hochhelmer. Concombres.
Poitrine de Dinde truffe al l'Ambassadrice.
Pommes. Artishauts a l'Italienne.
Pautet Canet.
Taummettes de Ris de Veau a la Richeleau.
Petits pois au beurre.
Terapine a la Marriand.

Celebration of Jackson Day by the Business Men's Democratic Association.

Secretary of the Navy Herbert, ex-Governor Flower, CoCmCptroller Fitch, ex-Congressman Rayner and others indorse President Cleveland's foreign policy, and urge sound currency at the banquet given in commemoration of the anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans, at the Hotel Savoy. (Sketched by a Journal staff artist.)

cere cheap money had performed its function. The following telegrams in the cereits and the indicated, debts had militabled, and now, when the day of reck money were everywhere appealing to the control of the association. The following telegrams and money were everywhere appealing to the control of the association. The following telegrams and money were everywhere appealing to the control of the association. The following telegrams and the control of the association. The following telegrams are control of the association. The fo

The last one held in that city was in 1808, when Horatio Seymour and Frank P. Blair were nominated, and as New York furnishes a large percentage of the money with which to carry on the campaigns, it should have the convention if it so desires it.

The manner in which the Democrate were treated at Chicago in 1802 is still fresh in the minds of many members of the committee, and it is safe to say that city is by no means popular as a convention city. Those who have canvassed the matter make the claim that New York will have at least from eighteen to twenty-one votes on the first ballot. It is not be lieved that St. Louis will be regarded as a formidable competitor.

The weak point in Cincinnati's claim will be its want of first-class hotels. There are but four of them, while there are many of an inferior class. Those who attended the

A NEW DEBUT FOR JENNIE JOYCE,

A Former Footlight Favorite Greeted Many Old Friends Last Evening.

Made Her Debut in Society as Mrs. Daly at Her Home in Forty-sixth Street.

The Musicale Lacked the Formality Which Marks Similar Functions in Fashionable Circles.

SHE SANG THE OLD FAMILIAR SONGS.

Guests Included Many Professional Stars. Who Entertained the Company with Their Musical and Dialect Specialties.

Jennie Joyce (Mrs. Phil Daly, Jr.,) made her debut in society last night. It was at a musicale given by Mrs. Van Wyck at her home, No. 202 West Forty-sixth street, where Mr. and Mrs. Daly are living. Unlike most debutantes, Miss Joyce-that is to say, Mrs. Daly-was not at all embarrassed. In fact, she was perfectly at home and neither hesitated nor blushed when called upon to sing for Mrs. Van Wyck's guests, The sougs were familiar to many of those present, for they were those with which, in days gone by, she charmed the public at Koster & Blal's.

The musicale was a great success. It had none of the formality and restraint that mark so many of society's musical func-tions. The guests included a sprinkling of the profession in which Mrs. Daly was best known. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Gunn, Mr. and Mrs. Sabell, who are at Tony Pastor's; Edmund Throckmorton, Ernest Jarrold, Mr. Fischel, Miss Helene Shepard and Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Anthony. There were scores of others, but, as Mrs. Daly said, "there are too many to remember, and those named are the best."

AN OLD-TIME FAVORITE.

The musicale did not begin until late, for some of the guests were busy during the early evening at the theatres, and it was not thought fair to commence proceedings before they arrived. The tardiness in be-ginning was atoned for by putting the lost hours at the end of the musicale instead of the early part.

Mrs. Sabell was called upon for a song and responded. She had to give two before the guests would let her stop. Then Mr.

